The broasted chicken with a side of mashed potatoes are a popular dish at The Howe, a contemporary bar and restaurant popular for its craft cocktails, including these two, the Black Berry French 75, left, and Hemingway's Winter.

In late November, Moon Palace Bookstore opened on Minnehaha and 30th, two blocks north of its previous location. The store's new-release section as well as its selection of local, national and international authors is just as thoughtfully chosen as ever. The larger space will allow the bookstore to eventually open a cafe in the space which will serve beer, wine and pizza.

Not too far away just south of Lake Street and east of Minnehaha Avenue, Glass Endeavors spotlights stained, fused and mosaic glass art and offers everything from windows to lamp shades, not to mention custom creations. The spot is also a place to shop gifts. Classes are also available.

EAT

Hungry? There are plenty of places on Minnehaha Avenue and nearby to grab a bite.

The Howe Daily Kitchen and Bar is a contemporary spot that draws crowds for its craft cocktails, 40 beers on tap and menu of salads, soups, wraps, burgers and broasted chicken.

On Minnehaha, Parkway Pizza is a popular neighborhood institution.

Recently, Parkway Pizza owners joined the movement led by Red's Savoy to declare "Minnesota Style Pizza" — thin crust pizzas loaded with toppings, served under the cheese and cut into squares — on its menu. Hoagies and various pastas are also on the menu.
